A Place to Gather

Designed for ceremonies, music, and moments of gathering, this structure offers shelter without separation. It acts as a natural focal point for celebrations held outdoors, anchoring the space while remaining open to the surroundings.

“To hold people, music, and ceremony with ease.”

Grounded in the Land

Roof: Gently faceted, clad in wooden shingles.

Form: 4-metre octagonal frame rising from solid timber posts.

Aesthetic: A quiet statement piece that ages gracefully as the timber weathers, becoming part of the environment rather than an imposition upon it.

Setting: Designed to sit comfortably in gardens and woodland clearings.

Craft & Character

Every element is shaped by hand. The interior roof structure is left exposed, showcasing radial beams meeting at a central hub.

The Tree Pirates Touch

This visible joinery gives the space warmth, strength, and an unmistakably artisan character. It is built to be looked at, not just stood under.

A Proven Structure

This bandstand has already lived a life of shared moments and withstood the rigours of public use.

Takeaway: It is tested, durable, and versatile.

Installation & Site Requirements

Type: Free-standing structure.

Usage: Permanent or semi-permanent installation suitable for long-term outdoor use.

Footings: Concrete footings are required for each leg (prepared in advance).

Customisation: Final footing design to be agreed according to specific site conditions.

Creating a Permanent Legacy

Option 1: Outright Sale

Become the permanent custodian of the structure. It becomes a lasting part of your landscape and venue story.

Option 2: Long-Term Hire

Offer venues a lasting focal point without the commitment of purchase. Ideal for seasonal residencies or trial periods.

Target Audience: Both options are perfectly suited to wedding venues, private land, and places where people come together to mark meaningful occasions.

Start the Conversation

Whether for a season or a lifetime, bring this handcrafted focal point to your grounds.
